💡 Strategic Insight (VERY IMPORTANT)

👉 Commercial buyers are:

- Retail-driven (tenants first, then land)
- Location + visibility focused
- Traffic + demographics driven

👉 Your site (Shepherd's Place):

- Planned layout
- Likely multiple commercial uses
- Can be broken into parcels

👉 This is:

Retail / mixed-use commercial opportunity — not raw land

🚀 How You Should Pitch This

✗ Don't say:

"We have land for sale"

👉 Say:

"We have a commercial development opportunity with planned parcels suitable for retail and mixed-use users."

Hello [Name],

I hope you are doing well.

I wanted to connect with you regarding an opportunity at Shepherd's Place, involving a planned commercial development with multiple parcels suitable for retail and mixed-use use cases.

The project has strong potential for commercial users and investor-driven development, and we are currently evaluating the right positioning and go-to-market strategy.

We would value your expertise in:

- Retail/commercial demand in this micro-market
- Ideal tenant mix and positioning
- Buyer/investor profile

We are speaking with a select group of experienced commercial brokers and would appreciate the opportunity to connect with you.

Please let me know a convenient time to discuss.

Best regards,

[Your Name]

TX Sparks Construction LLC

My Recommendation (VERY IMPORTANT)

Start with:

1. CBRE (Chris Gerard) → strongest commercial platform
2. Colliers (Bryan McMurrey) → land + retail combo
3. JLL (Josh Friedlander) → tenant-driven strategy

Pro Move (Game Changer)

 Ask brokers THIS question on call:

“Which tenants would anchor this site?”

Because:

- Retail drives land value

- Tenants bring developers
 - Developers bring buyers

💥 Final Thought

👉 This is NOT just land

👉 This is:

Commercial development opportunity with tenant-driven upside

Position it that way → you attract serious commercial players, not random buyers.

If you want next, I can:

- Identify actual tenants (Starbucks, QSR, etc.) for your site
- Build a commercial pitch deck
- Create a broker outreach tracker + follow-up system
